Formerly known as the Green Building Forum (GBF) and as the name suggests, Datum:Green is a half day forum featuring the latest in sustainable design and eco-centric developments both in Malaysia and worldwide. Speakers are drawn from a wide range of roles and professions, to share and discuss on the common issues and specialised techniques in addressing climate change, in preparing and developing a range of approaches that are in themselves major and minor but altogether effective and responsive.

TO BE ANNOUNCED

Architecture by its very nature is informed by a wide range of discipline and knowledges, and it is this relationship from which good architecture emerges. Formerly known as the Kuala Lumpur Design Forum (KLDF), Datum+ celebrates the spectrum of alternative skillsets and expertise that has proven to be important ingredients in the making of buildings today. The speakers for this half day symposia are selected from both within and outside architectural professional boundaries and demonstrate the complexity and richness of the discipline of architecture today.
