A graduate of the Bartlett School of Architecture & Planning, University College London who has worked in the United Kingdom and Malaysia over the past 30 years.

He has been in private practice for over 20 years in Kuala Lumpur, working mainly on housing in the private sector with projects ranging from minor renovations to high-rise apartments.

The speaker has noted that he has no particular affection for Building Contracts (along with computers, contractors, local authorities, etc.,...) but recognizes that they are essential tools required in the exercise of the Architect's profession and is continually puzzled by the high level of ignorance of the PAM Form in the Building Industry.
