Brigadier-general Arthur Benison Hubback may possibly have been the most important architect during the British Malaya period. A unique exhibition organised by Malaysian Institute of Architects (PAM) and Department of Museums Malaysia (JMM) is showcasing 25 of Hubback's projects, including Masjid Jamek, Malay College Kuala Kangsar, Carcosa Seri Negara, Ipoh Railway Station & Hotel, Kuala Lumpur Railway Station & Hotel, Ubudiah Mosque and the Old Kuala Lumpur Supreme Court. A highlight of the exhibition is a 100-year-old painting of Masjid Jamek that once belonged to Hubback.
